

Constellation West Recognized as a Best Subcontractor in Washington Technology Report

WASHINGTON, July 6, 2015 — Constellation West, a leading provider of mission-critical technology solutions and one of the fastest-growing women-owned, service-disabled veteran-owned government solutions providers in the country, has been listed as one of the best subcontractors in government industry in the Washington Technology Insider Report "Government IT Contractor Partnering, 2015 Update: Primes Grade the Subs."

"The Constellation West team is honored to have been recognized by our prime partners in this biennial report," said Lisa Wolford, president and CEO of Constellation West. "Whether serving as a subcontractor or prime, our relationships with our partners are critical to our ability to deliver success for our customers and we are committed to strong collaboration to achieve customer and mission success. I believe our team will continue to be a partner of choice because we offer a unique combination of deep technical knowledge and outstanding project management supported by quality-focused processes and an executive team that enables best performance."

The recently released Washington Technology special report, included research conducted by Lodestar Partners, examines the relationship between primes and their subcontractors. Five key attributes – technical expertise, teamwork, customer knowledge, industry perception and process – were evaluated to determine what makes subcontractors likely to be strong partners.
